

A journey to remember...

Theatre Royal Haymarket - Start time 7.30pm

Don't miss your chance to see this joyously uplifting new British musical when it comes to the West End stage for 11 weeks only, following its ★★★★★ sold-out run at Chichester Festival Theatre.

Funny, profound, deeply moving and uplifting, 'The Unlikely Pilgrimage of Harold Fry' is a joyous new musical adapted by Rachel Joyce from her multi-million selling novel, with an original score by the chart-topping musician, Passenger.

Harold Fry was never meant to be a hero. An ordinary man in an ordinary life until a letter from a long-lost friend sends him out the front door... and he keeps on walking. From Devon's quiet lanes to the windswept streets of Berwick-upon-Tweed, his journey becomes a pilgrimage of love, redemption, and second chances.

Strangers turn into companions, kindness appears in unexpected places, and the road reveals more than Harold ever imagined. Back home, his wife Maureen begins her own journey, one that might bring them together again.

'...glorious, life affirming' The Guardian '...pitch perfect musical... a ravishing score' The Times
